PRODUCT: Weather Guard Cab Protector Mounting Feet Update

We have made some dimensional updates to the cab protector mounting feet. Instead of the feet being chosen based on vehicle i.e. 1925-5-01 works on a Ford Super Duty, the updated mounting feet will fit in a truck bed based on the inner truck bed width between the rails. Please see the graphic below as to where the truck bed inner width will need to be measured for fitment. Even though the updated feet are based on inner bed width, a fitment chart has been created to show which 2018-2020 truck models fit with which mounting feet, but we still recommend measuring due to some overlapping with potential fitment.

In the table below, you will find the comparable replacement model to its discontinued model. The table below also shows what the fitment width will be for the new models. Please note, all cab protector feet listed below have been updated to a -02 suffix. With this change, there will be a UPC update. On the following page, you will find a table with the new model number, description, and UPC.
